

Stakeholder Advisory Committee (SAC)

The SAC (Stakeholder Advisory Committee) is a group of external experts and stakeholders that supports and strengthens the Green New Home project from the outside, ensuring it stays on track, relevant, and well-connected in each partner country.

The SAC has three main purposes

Quality assurance

it monitors the project's deliverables and implementation processes to make sure they remain relevant to the target groups and objectives.

Advisory function

it acts as a board that reviews and advises on major project outputs, the overall project implementation and quality of results:

Definition of the core skills to become a sustainable entrepreneur

Assessment and Training Space

Personalized Strategy Maker Mobile App

Networking & dissemination

it helps connect the project with local stakeholders, promoting its reach and overall impact.

Every SAC is made up of 5 members per partner drawn from a mix of profiles including representatives from:

30
members

associated partners from public or private sectors

experts working with migrants and refugees

adult educators and learners

business organisations
